

Returns

Enables borrowers to automatically notify lenders of returns and track assets borrowed using EquiLend or any other trading method

The EquiLend Returns service is an efficient way for borrowers to automatically send return notifications. Criteria based returns allow clients to return across any open loan.

When used with Contract Comparison, borrowers can return specific US and non-US contracts using a unique EquiLend ID.

How Returns Works

The borrower identifies a specific contract to initiate the returns process, or issues more general criteria to return one or many securities

The lender can acknowledge receipt of the return notification, and update the status of pending or settled returns using an easy-to-use monitor or messages integrated into their proprietary returns system

Once the return is accepted, it can be booked accordingly into each firm's internal books and records system

EquiLend provides reporting and tracking capabilities to monitor return statistics online
